About Polaroid

Polaroid represents more than a brand. More than the cameras in the closet. More than the millions of images online and in people's lives. Polaroid is a movement. It is love of self-expression and the sharing of that expression. Of seeing the results and trying again, a feedback loop that is instant and fulfilling. We want to embrace this movement, make it live, breathe and grow. The Polaroid movement will continue on...Freeing images instantly to fly and soar without hesitation.

This is our anthem. Made in Polaroid.

Made in Polaroid is our claim to the movement. Our banner and rallying cry. It's not a thing, it's a state of mind, a virtual and physical place. All connected by a simple, white border. Authentic, tangible and genuine. If it's Made in Polaroid, you know it links creativity and collaboration, simplicity and surprise. The digital world to the physical. Anyone can join the movement. Millions already have. It is being created right now by fans, for the fans. A camera isn't even mandatory. Imagination is the only thing required to participate. For the past 70 years this inspiring Polaroid community has endured. In the hands of artists and the creative class, it thrives. And grows. And collaborates. And links people together.

All Made in Polaroid.
